

Mark Holter Bio

Husband, father, professional musician, and saxophonist Mark Holter resides in Plantersville Texas just northwest of Houston.

Mark is A retired music educator having taught music and jazz ensemble 35 years in the Texas public school system and higher education at various community colleges.

Mark plays with the Houston Symphony Orchestra for their Pops Series about 6 shows a year.

Holter is a music director at Stonebridge Church in The Woodlands, TX and is honored to have served there for 24 years. To God be the Glory!!

Mark also teaches private instrumental lessons in saxophone, clarinet, flute, trumpet, piano, and jazz improvisation.

He loves playing music of all sorts especially jazz and big band oldies. Mark's band "The Bopmeisters" play regularly at various Houston Jazz Spots and stay busy providing entertainment at parties and all kinds of events like weddings, birthdays, anniversaries, bar-mitzvahs, pool parties and Holiday gatherings.

Mark and Cindy have been playing music gigs together since 1997. Cindy is the lead singer in Holter's big band and has performed with the Bopmeisters and the Renegades Orchestra.